INITIATIVES

THE WHOLE SOCIETY

Our activities are part of an international project “Bridge 47”, during which we try to involve the whole society to “build” a bridge to sustainable development through education.

On a European level, this project creates a global network, it expands partnerships, it hosts events for protecting interests of reaching sustainable development goals. We also develop the capacity and popularise innovative approach to European civil society organizations.

In Latvia we have organized many different activities – seminars, photo exhibitions, street promotions, which have attracted both young and elderly people from Riga and the surrounding regions. In these activities we have explained the link between the global world and each of us. We especially tried to organize events in environments with different types of people. That is how a wall painting was made, containing goals for sustainable development and we have also showed a video using a big screen on the street.

We also support and take part in traditional annual events. This year we organized a Global education week discussion in the University of Latvia, where representatives from different institutions and organizations took part.

Materials and articles that we have written are used by teachers during lessons and other interested parties. We invite everyone to register in our Global civil
